FALL
2005

The Library is Closed on the Following Days:

Veterans' Day—Nov. 11, 12, 13 (Friday, Saturday, Sunday)

Thanksgiving—Nov. 24, (Thursday)

NEW@ Kaneohe Public Library

Due to budget cuts, Kaneohe Library greatly reduced its hours from being open seven days a week and two evenings to being open five days a week and one evening. However, we are looking to increase our operating hours and days as early as December 4, 2005. This is our new proposed schedule:

Sundays 10-5 WEDNESDAYS 10-8
MONDAYS 10-8 Thursdays 10-5
 Tuesdays 10-5 FRIDAYS 1-5

We hope that this new schedule will better accommodate our patrons and pave the way towards once again being a seven-day library.

As of August 23rd, games, chat rooms, and musical downloads will no longer be available on public library Internet computers. This is in an effort to reduce the traffic flow during peak hours and increase the efficiency for those attempting to access the Internet. After listening to the numerous complaints about the slowness of our Internet connections, we hope that this will decrease download times for those using the Internet for e-mail, research, and other activities. We apologize for any inconveniences this may cause.

Hours of Operation:
Sunday	10-5
Monday	10-5
Tuesday	10-5
Wednesday	12-8
Thursday	10-5
Friday	CLOSED
Saturday	CLOSED

Deborah Turrell Atkinson, author of
THE GREEN ROOM and PRIMITIVE SECRETS

November 6, Sunday, 2 p.m.

Honolulu author Deborah Turrell Atkinson will be discussing her mystery novels and her experiences as an emerging fiction writer. She will be sharing her knowledge about the publishing business, the process of writing, and how to promote mystery novels.

Peppered throughout with surfing terms, Hawaiian dialect and gorgeous descriptions of Oahu's North Shore, this exotic beach read is quick and fun. —Publisher's Weekly on The Green Room
